Mourn Loss Of Japanese Woman

Races Join In Tribute To
Mrs. Moto Sakamoto At Bethany Services

Beneath a white flower covered cross on the altar of Bethany church Japanese and Christian funeral services were conducted for Mrs. Moto Sakamoto Wednesday afternoon. One of the largest displays of flowers ever seen at a Sierra Madre funeral including many orchids, banked the casket and lined the interior of the circular church, which was filled with friends, many of them standing, of the woman who has done so much in Christian missionary work. About three-quarters of the people were Japanese.

from Los Angeles, Pasadena, Imperial Valley and other Southern California cities, with many Americans who mourned the passing of Mrs. Sakamoto.

Japanese funeral services were conducted in the Christian church by Rev. Tokujiro Horikoshi, minister of the Japanese Presbyterian Church of Hollywood, with an assistant, Rev. Stewart R. Sherif, eBthany pastor, also officiated. Large funeral programs in the Japanese language were presented. Prayers and testimonials by friends and relatives of the beloved woman attested to her deep, strong Christian faith. "Her life has been in the service of God, and she leaves behind her a memory of truly great work," was the sentiment expressed by

Registrar Promises Better Election Service Here

Speedier announcement of election returns in Sierra Madre may be in order at the next election, according to a letter received by the Chamber of Commerce from W. R. Kerr, registrar of voters, this week. In the past, returns from the seven precincts have been telephoned to Arcadia, from where they are sent on to Los Angeles. Following the November 7 election, the Chamber of Commerce wrote Mr. Kerr, asking him if some method could not be found whereby returns could be made public sooner—telephoning them directly to Los Angeles, rather than the roundabout Arcadia method.

"Receipt is hereby acknowledged of your letter of November 14, relating to telephoning election results from your city hall to Los Angeles," Mr. Kerr wrote. "I shall be glad to cooperate with you and will take care of the matter at the next election," Mr. Kerr's letter read.

STREIT PLAN FOR A UNION OF DEMOCRACIES HAS SUPPORT OF SIERRA MADREANS

Clarence K. Streit, author of the current international best seller "Union Now" which is being proclaimed as probably one of the "most important books published this far in the twentieth century," and Mrs. Streit were houseguests last week at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Theodore Dunham, Jr., 595 Elm street, while Mr. Streit was filling lecture engagements in Southern California.

Many prominent Sierra Madreans have joined with well known citizens of other communities in showing sincere interest in Mr. Streit's plan for a federal union of the 15 democracies, for the advancement of international security.

Mr. Streit, who has given five years to creation of the plan, is a Rhodes Scholar who for 10 years has been a correspondent for the New York Times at Geneva, covering the League of Nations, from 1929 to 1939.

His plan is for a federal union of the democracies following the plan of the original 13 American colonies, which would maintain a common army, naval and air force, currency and citizenship,

Lonely Man Ends Life With Poison

Wilbur A. Smith Leaves
Letters Leaving No Doubt
Of His Intention

Lonely, his health impaired and his future uncertain because of his financial status, Wilbur A. Smith, age 54, died at St. Luke's hospital as the clock struck 12, Saturday night, from the effects of poison taken with suicidal intent at his home, 331 Ramona avenue, about 9 o'clock that evening. Funeral services were conducted by the Monrovia Elks Lodge at the Grant Chapel Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Edith Askew, 115 North Baldwin avenue, a friend of the Smith family, found the Ramona avenue house locked up when she went there shortly after 9 o'clock in the evening in response to a telephone call from Mr. Smith announcing that he was very ill. Unable to gain admission, she could hear him breathing heavily inside and notified the police. Officer Art Johnson climbed through a window and found Smith lying on the kitchen floor unconscious, clad in pajamas. He had apparently fallen after taking poison from a glass which was found broken in the sink. On a kitchen table were two bottles marked poison and an empty pill box. He was rushed to the hospital and death came at midnight.

He left a note to Sally Jane Smith, 1654 Shattuck street, Los Angeles, a daughter, and one to the Monrovia Elks Lodge asking it to conduct funeral services. Also there were two sealed letters addressed to Mrs. Mabel Potter, and another to Mrs. Nella Lieualten, Moscow, Idaho, a sister. There was also a letter addressed to the probate court which was as follows: "Elizabeth Stanbury Smith made an assignment of all rights to the property at 227 Wilson street to me before her death. I now assign all rights to said property to Sally Jane Smith."

The note to Sally Jane Smith warned her to beware of gas when she entered the house, indicating he may have considered asphyxiating himself, later changing his mind. He apologized for bills he was leaving behind but said they were not contracted on behalf of himself.

Mr. Smith had been lonesome since the death of his wife, Elizabeth Stanbury Smith, two months ago. He became despondent and his health was poor. He confided to intimates that though an expert electrical engineer he was past the age and in such physical condition that it was difficult if not impossible to secure employment and that he was in poor circumstances.

Mr. Smith was born in Moscow, Idaho, May 1, 1885. He had been in the electrical business for 20 years. In 1932 he resigned a good position in Washington to be with Mrs. Smith here during an illness and remained at her side until her death. He was a member of the Wallace, Idaho, Elks lodge.

Garden Scene Will Be Setting For Jr. Women's Dance

A garden scene has been selected as the setting of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club Juniors semi-formal dance Saturday evening at the clubhouse. An arbor, white picket fence and flowers will lend color and atmosphere. Decorations are in charge of Floretta Brown, Winnie Lees, Cleon Drury, Elma Blake and Mildred Malben all new members of the club, under whose direction the dance is being given.

with free trade and immigration. "None of the proposed nations has been at war with any of the others for more than 100 years," states Mr. Streit, who adds that "They do 70 per cent of their present foreign trade with each other, and have the same basic ideas of individual freedom and representative government."

His proposed union would have 60 to 95 per cent of practically every essential war material. No other nation or group of nations would dare to attack it, once its defense forces were united, Mr. Streit says. The plan also provides for the entrance of other nations into the Federation as they are able to meet the democratic requirements.

Dr. Gordon Mannerstedt, of Oakland, who accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Streit south was houseguest during their stay at the home of Miss Marian Vannier, 153 South Hermosa avenue.

Sierra Madreans who are endorsing the plan include Dr. W. B. Heagerty, Dr. and Mrs. Theodore Dunham, Jr., Lee Shippey, Miss Marian Vannier, Miss Elizabeth and W. Jarvis Barlow, Jr.

THANK GOD, WE'RE AMERICANS!

POLICE OF MANY CITIES PLAN REGULATIONS TO CURB HALLOWE'EN LAWLESSNESS

Sierra Madre was not the only San Gabriel Valley city in which its youthful Halloween celebrants overstepped the line. Complaints are heard from many foothill communities and chiefs of police in a number of them are arranging a conference to devise a uniform program intended to prevent a recurrence of some of the unseemly conduct that characterized the recent celebrations.

In the hope of keeping that city's youth within bounds on Halloween the police department of Monrovia in cooperation with several civic organizations had hundreds of boys and girls sign a "safe and sane Halloween celebration pledge." "But," says the Monrovia Journal, "an extra ordinarily large number of young people had to be taken in charge by the police department—more than for many years. But it was apparent that few of those who signed the pledge were involved in episodes which require attention of the police department."

In Glendora a big Halloween party was arranged for the city's youth, followed by a parade. But there were many who overstepped the line of discretion notwithstanding this. Where there was destruction and unseemly conduct it was on the part of girls and young men beyond the age that would be interested in the party and parade.

In Upland and Ontario the boys and girls of about the age of those who got into trouble here and who overstepped the line in Glendora, Glendale and other cities, seemed to lose all sense of reason and even fire plugs were put out of commission, menacing whole areas in the event of a fire. Commenting on the situation in Ontario, the Ontario Herald says: "What the heck is the matter with our kids today—or is it the parents and NOT the kids? Another Halloween has come and gone and with it entirely too much damaged property, mostly by those old enough to know better."

"Eight fire calls to the fire department in less than five hours, six palm trees burned, two large rubbish fires, and a burden to the tax-payer amounting to three times the normal expense of one month's operation of the entire fire department for these eight calls coming in quick succession—to say nothing of the potential danger of a greater fire, or series of fires, from the burning palm trees."

The situation in Glendale attracted nation-wide attention due to the upsetting of automobiles and their occupants, tearing up of gasoline pumps at service stations and other malicious conduct that resulted in a riot which the police were obliged to resort to the use of tear bombs to subdue, later taking nearly 100 young boys and those old enough to know better into custody.

North Pole Auto Man And Wife Visit Her Parents Here

Headed back to their home in Fairbanks, Alaska, after a trip from the frozen north, across Canada, to the New York Fair, down to Florida and across the south and west, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lerdale are visiting Mrs. Lerdale's parents, Deputy Sheriff and Mrs. Ben Grammel in Sierra Madre canyon. Mrs. Lerdale is the former Beatrice Grammel.

Mr. Lerdale enjoys the distinction of operating the most northern automobile agency in the world, his territory extending from Fairbanks to the north pole, and the largest territory covered by an automobile agency on the western continent, as a distributor for Packard and Studebaker. The couple will remain here for about ten days before driving on home.

Hundreds On Roll Of The Red Cross

Volunteer Workers With Task Half Completed
Report Citizens Responsive

Second week of the 1940 Red Cross Roll call opened Monday with a satisfactory record, according to C. W. Jones, chapter president, with approximately 500 members and $800 in subscriptions. Especially gratifying is the large proportion of new members who have joined the roll, Mr. Jones said, and added that he hopes all Sierra Madreans who have been members through the years will continue to do their part in making the 1940 drive an outstanding success.

Roll call will continue through November 30, it was announced at the local office, and this week volunteer workers are making return trips to homes where members of the household were absent in previous visits. It is the aim to get in touch with every citizen—not missing one. Cooperation of local clubs and organizations is especially fine, it was reported.

Due to the fact that all district reports are not all in, the following list of canvassers may not be entirely complete: District 1, Mrs. Helen Lovejoy, captain; Miss Regina Kathe, Mmes. Dorothy Krug, Walter Reed, Bertha Shapiro and M. M. Bains, workers. District 2, Miss Jean Woodward, captain; Miss Catherine J. McBurn

Four-Day Vacation At Local Schools Begins Today

A four-day vacation for Sierra Madre students, from kindergarten through junior college, will be enjoyed in observance of the Thanksgiving holiday, starting this afternoon. Both schools in Sierra Madre, Woodrow Wilson Junior High and Pasadena Junior College will close until Monday, giving students a breathing spell from studies, and enabling teachers who live in nearby cities to spend the holiday at home.

The bank, city hall, stores and postoffice will be closed all day Thursday, and Pacific Electric cars will run on holiday schedule.

Summery Weather To Continue

Made-to-order Thanksgiving weather which will probably continue through the weekend is indicated by Sierra Madreans. The summer-like temperatures which Sierra Madre has been enjoying seems due to stay for a while longer, much to the satisfaction of citizens who are taking advantage of the sunshine, spending as much time as possible in their gardens and out-of-doors. Temperatures for the week were:

	Max.	Min.

November 18	81	57
November 19	85	50
November 20	84	61

ABOUT THAT JOB TOMORROW

Demonstrating the proper method of carving a turkey, Chef Nieder shows how the wing should be removed from the bird. The meat from the wing, as well as from the thigh and leg, should be sliced off with a sharp knife and the bones should not be served in either case, except in informal family circles.

Carving the Thanksgiving turkey can be transformed from an arduous ordeal, fraught with many embarrassing hazards, into a consummate work of art that will arouse the envious admiration of all who observe, simply by following a few simple rules. Etiquette and good form dictate that the Thanksgiving bird be carved at the table, not in the kitchen, but all too often father hesitates to tempt the fates by risking a session before the platter in full public view, particularly if there are guests at the holiday dinner.

There is, however, something irresistibly inviting in watching a skilled carver guide a keen-edged knife through the yielding joints and tender flesh of a well-cooked Thanksgiving turkey, and the savory aroma of a bird taken directly from the roasting oven to the table works wonders with appetites.

For the benefit of those readers whose efforts to acquire a technique in dismembering the carcass of a tasty fowl have left them more or less physically helpless and mentally hopeless, Chef John Nieder has prepared a few simple pointers on how to do it without exertion or violence. They follow:

Proper tools are the first requirement. The knife should be thin-bladed, pointed and well sharpened. The fork should be a strong, long-handled, two-tined instrument. A steel for maintaining the keen edge of the knife should be included. The spoon to serve the dressing should have a long handle.

Use a platter large enough to provide space for the turkey and also for the carved portions until it is time to serve them. Garnish should be kept to a minimum as an aid to the carver. A few large crisp sprigs of parsley, and chop holders for the drumsticks are all that is necessary.

It must be assumed that the bird is properly cooked. Overcooking handicaps the carver for meat that falls off the bones cannot be sliced attractively. Place the bird breast up on the platter, with the legs to the right and the neck to the left of the carver. Plates, glasses and dishes should be placed well out of the way.

Each piece of turkey as it is carved is laid on the platter's edge with the most attractive side up. No one is served until enough has been cut to serve each guest, with a little to spare. The carving operation itself is divided into three divisions. These are shown in the accompanying illustrations. Follow the directions, says Chef Nieder, and you can't go wrong.

"park" before we actually start. The ground around the pepper tree will be dug up... buffalo grass removed completely... and ivy geraniums put in... After that, the street department tells us the job is ours... and it will be up to us to see that the geraniums grow... as well as to keep dogs, children and tobacco chewers from the little plot.

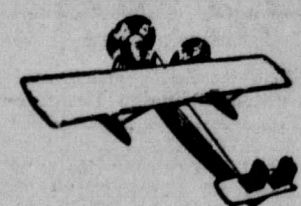

Mrs. Jean Young and daughter Priscilla, of Long Beach, will spend Thanksgiving weekend with Mrs. Young's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Gabriel, of 145 East Alegria avenue, who are planning a trip to Mojave on Thanksgiving day.

PTA Thinks Better Lighting Should Be Had At School

A group of enthusiastic parents gathered at the grammar school auditorium Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for the regular Parent Teachers Association meeting, when Miss Harriet B. Sterling of Pasadena Junior College faculty, West Campus, spoke on "Motion Picture Appreciation," now a college study.

Miss Sterling pointed out the change that has taken place in pictures since 1929, and said when citizens band together in a common cause, results may be achieved.

The program opened with a salute to the flag, followed by a group of songs by school children, led by Miss Pfahler. A short program stressing books in observance of National Book Week was presented by students.

At the business meeting a recommendation was made to write the school board about a better lighting system in the school. Tea was served by the 2nd grade mothers.

No one knows what he can do till he tries.—Publius Syrus.

IT WON'T BE LONG NOW

But the signs are unmistakable! Back East the other day, a police judge started sternly down at a chap caught red-handed in a misdemeanor calling for a few weeks in jail. Then he noticed the man had a luxuriant white beard. "You look," said the judge, "like—"

"That's it your Honor," interrupted the culprit, "like Santa Claus! Every year I get a job playing Santa. If you put me in jail, I can't—"

"Okay, Santa," the judge weakened, "I can't sentence you to jail now."

The Christmas spirit is beginning to stir. The holiday tangle in the air. Folks are planning family reunions. Already stores and shops are giving their windows the Yuletide glow. And it isn't at all too early to do what you've probably planned for years to do—and failed to do! That is, get your Christmas shopping out of the way early so it won't be a last-minute ordeal of pushing through crowds and standing in line. There is no sound excuse for such delay these days. Grandpa and grandma may have had to arrange things to "get to the city" for their shopping. But not in this era of modern merchandising.

It seems needless and unfair that—when Christmas Day is just around the corner—store workers should be obliged to toil at an exhaustive pace just because others have waited till the last hour to select something for Uncle Joe or Aunt Ella.

Shop early and everybody will have a happier Christmas holiday season.

EXPLOIT SENTIMENT

Making good a pre-election threat, Henry Brutt, 72-year old San Franciscan, ended his life the other day, angered by the defeat of the 30-Thursday proposal—a sacrifice to the Utopian light that failed.

In the hearts of thousands of other citizens are equally keen disappointment still lingers. Exploiting that sentiment to their own ends, callous individuals are again drumming up funds hoping to rally their victims in a great mass crusade for the third time. Despite the emphatically stated verdict of the vast majority of citizens in both Ohio and California against such schemes, authors of those plans are little abashed. They refuse either to acknowledge the twice-affirmed decision of the electorate, or to

For Gay Quick Color
In Your Garden
Plant These Now

One of the best flowers that can be planted at this time of year is the marigold, for the orange blooms not only set well in the garden, but they also make a fine cut flower.

When buying the seed, it is best to ask for what is known as the French marigold, as they are much better for cutting.

If planted now in the open ground, they will bloom a little after the first of the year.

They can be planted in the open ground in this manner: the day after you have soaked the ground with water, spade it up, rake it over, planting the seed one-fourth inch deep, then forming the ground with your foot so that it will hold the moisture, after that give it one light raking so that the ground will not form a crust, do not water, and your plants should be up within a week.

learn the equally convincing lessons of history.

The collapse of Alberta, Canada's "Prosperity warrants" is a matter of record. The fate of Gov. O'Daniel's promises to Texas voters is further proof that the test of any plan's merit is not the brightness of its promises, but the soundness of its method by which the promise is to be put into practice. All the Texan promised was $30 a month for everyone 65 and over. Before he was elected—with the aid of a colorful hill-billy band—Texas oldsters could at least count on the mailman faithfully bringing them $14.24 every month. Today, lacking funds even to pay $14.24, the State has slashed that already slim portion to $8.24.

It is one thing to promise and another to produce. The fate of 1939 schemes indicates that the majority of the public is well aware of that distinction. So long as they remain so, neither money-juggling plots nor their authors will long delay or disrupt the country's steady progress toward increased security for its aged citizens through democratic method.

Artists, authors, composers, and poets are coming into their own at last! Having apparently exhausted the roster of presidents and statesmen, the Post Office Department is turning to new fields for inspiration. A suggestion for a new stamp is something the government has never plowed under. Certainly if variety is the spice of life, the Post Office Department has been more than generous in supplying its share of seasoning. Soon to be issued is a famous American series of postage stamps which will introduce 35 faces new to the public and the postal service. The notable Americans will include not only poets, composers, authors, and artists, but inventors, educators and scientists. Well and good! But some day officials should consider imprinting the likeness of that ever popular, ever faithful public servant who carries the nation's letters—the mail man!

It is estimated that more than 1,000,000 cars from the United States enter Canada annually.

Early claims that a fifth of the nation's population saw this year's New York World's Fair are being vigorously disputed now that the total attendance figures have been digested. Turnstiles clicked for less than 8,500,000 paid admissions. Exhibitors none too well pleased with the fair management, labor cars and rackets who harassed them, say nearly all of the New Yorkers and out-of-state visitors were repeaters at the entrances—made more than one visit. With the nation's population less than a third of what it is now the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia in 1876 had 8,000,000 paid admissions. Biggest daily attendance at any one world's fair on record was October 9, 1893—Chicago Day—at the World's Columbian Exposition, in the Windy City, when more than a million persons passed through the gates.

An expenditure of $50,000,000 in the building of silos would be required to store supplies of wheat sufficient to supply England's needs for six months.

More than 7,000 of Pennsylvania's license liquor dealers are being put out of business. The state liquor control board began the weeding out process November 1 in compliance with a law passed by the recent legislature requiring that there shall not be more than one license—wholesale and retail—to each 1,000 of population. Several hundred licenses have already fallen by the wayside. Though the control board is not required to assign a reason for failure to renew licenses in its mandatory duty of reducing the number of them, the board designated many of those already refused renewals as "bad actors;" others as being "unnecessary" and still others as having "failed to measure up to qualifications specified for eating places."

There are 3072 counties in the United States.

In the 50 years from 1880 to 1930 the total number of patents in force in this country increased 3.6 times from 195,090 to 704,157. If all the patents applied for by American inventors in 1938 flowed into the United States Patent office in a steady stream, there would be one every two minutes, 40 hours a week for 52 weeks. More than 8 acres of space are required to house the voluminous records kept by the Patent Office. The office has issued more than 2 million patents.

Plants suffer a fever when afflicted with certain ailments; the tiny bacteria that causes rot has been found responsible for most of the trouble.

Over 90 million boxes of citrus fruits grown in the United States were consumed as fresh fruit during the year ending October 31st, reported General Manager Paul S. Armstrong in his annual report to directors of the growers exchange this week. This total exceeds the previous record made in 1938 by over eight million boxes.

Australia consumes almost two and one-half times as much sugar annually as Germany and Belgium.

When Mr. Motorist begins to revamp his budget to meet the first payment on his 1940 automobile he should be glad that this isn't 1907. The average price of an automobile today is about one-third of 33 years ago. In that year the average automobile cost $2131, with windshield, top and horn extra.

The weather station at Colon, Isthmus of Panama, records fewer temperatures of 90 degrees than do many Alaska stations.

Although national estimates reveal a two per cent decrease in traffic fatalities throughout the United States, for the first nine months of the year, California shows a five per cent increase for the same period, reports the public safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

The Bible contains two chapters which are nearly alike word for word. They are the 19th Chapter of II Kings and the 3rd Chapter of Isaiah.

Even if Coolidge did fiddle while the country boomed, we have a kindly feeling for his memory and we had a lot of fun when he ruled.

TRUTH about ADVERTISING
By CHARLES B. ROTH

FINE GOLD

IF YOU want to discover the humanizing influence of advertising, one of the extra dividends it pays you every time you buy, make this experiment:

First go into the store of a merchant who doesn't advertise; it probably won't be a very large store. Next go into the store of a merchant who does. See where you receive the most courteous, the most attractive, the most gracious service and treatment.

One of the big truths of advertising is that it not only saves you money when you buy, but also makes your buying more pleasant.

The merchant who advertises has an obligation to uphold—the obligation of fair prices and better service. This obligation becomes the ideal of his business. Whatever the advertising says about his goods and his store he feels he must provide. As a result, the intangible influence of the printed word makes itself felt in the courtesy, consideration and desire to serve of every member of his organization.

You may have noticed that when a store begins to advertise something takes place. Its employees, clean down to the delivery boy, become seized with

Local Hunters Find Quail And Pheasant Quite Plentiful

Open season on quail which began November 15 and continues through December, and on male pheasants which was open for a five day period closing Monday, attracted a group of Sierra Madre hunters who went up north Sunday, and came back with plenty of birds in their bags. Four Sierra Madreans, William Adwell, H. C. Reavis and son, Clay, Jr., and Ben Mobley were in a large party that went out for the day and returned with both pheasants and quail. Mr. Adwell brought down two pheasants and four quail.

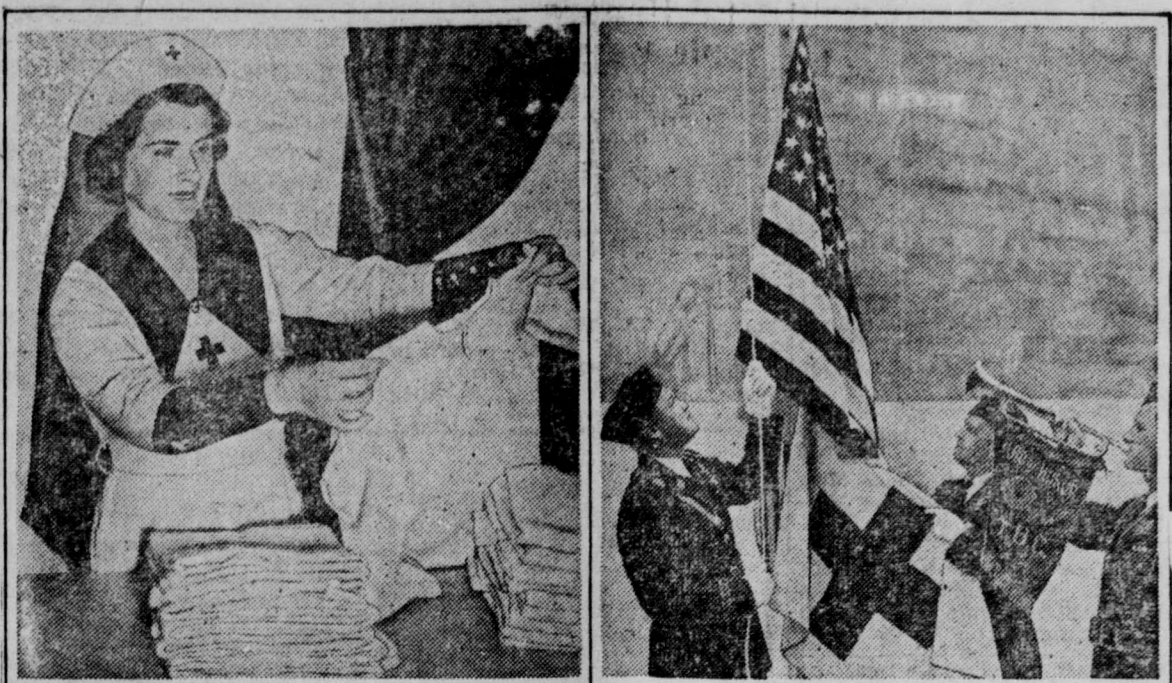

Hunters who have taken out licenses at the Sierra Madre Hardware store during the past month are Mr. Reavis and Mr. Adwell; W. B. Coombs, Glendale; Williams W. Mays, of Pasadena; and Clarence Vore, Arcadia.

Four-year old David Veiga of 162 North Grove street received painful injuries Sunday morning at Grove street and Highland avenue when he was struck by a car driven by Robert Coit, 21, of 270 North Grove street. The child was apparently playing in the street when the car approached. Mr. Veiga called to his son, who dashed in front of the Coit car. The child, suffering from pavement burns, was rushed to St. Lukes Hospital. Coit was exonerated by police.

Taking Of Business Census Will Begin Here January 2

Sample schedules and forms for taking the 1940 Decennial census in Sierra Madre are expected soon by the Chamber of Commerce. The census of business and manufacturers will start January 2, and the census of population, farm and housing census will begin April 1. William L. Burr, president of the Chamber of Commerce, has been advised from Washington.

The nation is being divided into 100 areas and branch offices will be set up in convenient cities. Business and manufacturers' censuses will require about five months and enumerators with schedules will call on Sierra Madre businesses beginning January 2. Final statistics will include breakdowns for the 48 states; 3,072 counties and approximately 3,150 cities and towns of more than 2,500 population. The law protects those enumerated by keeping all answers confidential. They are available only to sworn census employees and are not available except in broad statistical form to any other agency in or out of government.

Football Pros In Thanksgiving Game

Anxious to get into the leadership of the American Professional Football League, the famous Los Angeles Bulldogs will battle the Dayton Bombers tomorrow (Thanksgiving Day) afternoon at the Gilmore Stadium. The Bombers are a rough, tough team that has made trouble for every other club in the American Pro loop.

The great field goal kicking of "Tillie" Manton and George "Automatic" Karamatic has centered the eyes of football fans of Southern California on the two great backfield stars of the Los Angeles squad. So successful have they been in their field goal kicking that coaches of high school and college teams have been sending their players out to the games at the Gilmore Stadium to have them watch the two kicking stars in action.

Auxiliary Newsette Is Brain Child Of Local Unit Head

"Eighteenth District Newsette," a clever little sheet with chatty comments about goings-on in the American Legion Auxiliary, in the 18th district, is a brain child of Helen Lovejoy, president of the local auxiliary, and publicity chairman for the district.

Its purpose is to set an example for publicity heads in the district, and through informality achieve better newswriting. Local auxiliary members will be interested in the Sierra Madre notes in the first issue.

"Sierra Madre Unit has furnished leaders, canvassers and financial help for our local Red Cross Membership Roll Call ... Armistice dance was a happy time for all. Orcella Stinman had charge of the card room, and awarded boxes of sweets to the lucky winners. Girls, if only you could have been present to see how perfectly lovely some of the Sierra Madre past presidents looked that night! Well, come on over to our next dance and see for yourself!"

Legion Plants More Trees At Charlton Flats Park

Dedication of 130 young pine trees in Memorial Park at Charlton Flats Sunday by Legionnaires of the 18th district, was attended by Mr. and Mrs. William Schwartz and son Billy, John Morgan and Sam Graham. Legionnaires were led by Post No. 13, of Pasadena, and planted the trees "in the name of conservation and in honor of their country."

Approximately 8,200 persons and 2,500 cars were counted passing Charlton Flats checking station by Angeles Forest District Ranger C. Ellsworth Harlan and Patrolmen Keith Kaylor and Paul Rattle. Since the area was opened to the public a month ago, foresters estimate that approximately 40,000 persons and at least 10,000 cars have gone in.

Much carelessness was noted on the part of visitors. A hiker built a fire illegally in Devil's Canyon section and several junior college geology students used their picks on a forest service gate which shut off a forbidden area. Several persons were seen carrying off pine branches, pine cones and oak and holly boughs.

meaning her usual high-necked dress, high-buttoned shoes, etc.

What brings Mirandy, apart from her numerous friends in this region, is her warm personal friendship for Hugo Storm and the fact that no one else can read the Storm mountain songs—bring out their pathos, humor, and beauty—as Mirandy can.

There will be other notables present to honor this event, all in the interest of our library as well as for the delectation of their souls. The affair will be in the nature of another very special supper and round-table at Wistaria Vine Gardens, November 26, open to the public and everyone welcome. Supper will be served at 6:30 and reservations should be made as early as possible to insure most desirable seating arrangements.

The Library committee sponsoring the affair, with the co-operation of Mrs. W. J. Lawless, wish to announce that there will be no solicitation of any sort for contributions or subscriptions beyond cost of the supper.

Leader Among Japanese Is Mourned

the minister and verified by the mourning congregation.

Following the Japanese services, Rev. Mr. Sheriff offered a prayer, paying tribute to the good deeds and splendid Christian service of Mrs. Sakamoto whose counsel was often sought by her people for the past 21 years.

Pallbearers were Messrs. M. Kunihiro, Nishiyama, Hiyoshi and Haramoto of Sierra Madre; and Mr. Konno Aisawa of Brawley. Interment was in Sierra Madre cemetery.

A heart attack Friday evening at Bethany Church caused the death of Mrs. Sakamoto, a resident of Sierra Madre for 16 years, who was known to American friends as the "Jane Addams of the Japanese colony" of Sierra Madre. Mrs. Sakamoto was too ill to be removed to her own home at the Vogel ranch, so she was taken to the home of her brother, Kunihiro Sakamoto, on Churchill Road, where she died at 11 o'clock Saturday morning.

Mrs. Sakamoto was born in Susushima, Japan, 48 years ago and at an early age became converted to the Christian faith. When 18 years old she graduated from the Girl's High school of Sashin, Yokohama, and studied three years in a theological seminary connected with an American missionary school in that city. To become a teacher. After teaching three years in the Girls' High school in Yagmaguchi Providence, she became a secretary in the Young Women's Christian Association in Tokyo. She also spent a year as a missionary teacher among the Japanese in Siberia. Coming to California 20 years ago, in 1918, she married her cousin Gikel Sakamoto, widely known as a poet and Christian lay preacher. Mrs. Sakamoto was a member of Bethany Church and a past president of the Sierra Madre Japanese Women's Club. Survivors, besides her husband and brother, include her mother and brother, Japan; two nephews, James Sakamoto, Sierra Madre; and Tomizo Suzuki, Cal. Tech graduate, now a civil engineer employed by the Japanese government in Tokyo.

In accordance with an ancient Japanese custom a testimonial meeting in her memory was held at 8 o'clock Monday evening, at Bethany church.

Mrs. Nestor Young will direct the food sales; Mrs. Eva Moore has charge of the aprons, and Mrs. R. C. Copenhagen will be in charge of the flowers.

"A Change of Heart," a one-act comedy drama directed by Mrs. Waverly E. Pratt will be presented. The cast includes Miss Elizabeth Doty as Katherine; Miss Ruth Miles as Mary, and Mrs. Pratt as Elaine.

BOY SCOUTS CHANGE MEETING DATE

Boy Scout Troop 1, Congregational Church, will hold its regular meeting Friday evening at the church, instead of Thursday. Change in meeting date was made because of the Thanksgiving holiday. All scouts are urged to be present.

Woman's Club Notes

Mrs. J. Andrew Hall, assisted by a committee of clubwomen including Mmes. Charles Hamilton, Raymond Simpson and Alice McCrea will be hostess at the Thanksgiving Tea at the Sierra Madre Woman's Clubhouse this (Wednesday) afternoon.

Mrs. J. H. Robertson will open the meeting at 2 o'clock with the reading of the poem "Thanks for Everything" by Tupper. Miss Hazel James Ferguson will sing "Thanks Be To God" before introducing Mr. and Mrs. Haig Arklin who will present the program.

Mr. Arklin will exhibit 15 art masterpieces which he has authentically reproduced from the originals of the Italian, Dutch and English schools, and will discuss their background and place in the world of art. Mrs. Arklin will give two groups of songs including Navajo and Pueblo Indian selections, and an Armenian group.

much more than a verbal expression of thanks. Action expresses more gratitude than speech. What we most need is the prayer of fervent desire for growth in grace, expressed in patience, meekness, love and good deeds.

"Thanksgiving Today" is the topic of Thanksgiving services to be held at Temple Beth Israel, Lima street and Laurel avenue, Friday evening, November 24, at 8 o'clock. A social hour will follow services, and everyone is welcome.

Charles W. Kinnear will have charge of Thanksgiving services at the Congregational Church at 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning, in the absence of the pastor, Rev. A. O. Pritchard, who left Tuesday to spend the holiday with his son in Berkeley.

The spirit of giving will be materially exhibited in the city Thursday when baskets of food and supplies will be distributed to needy families by the Monrovia Elks club, Councilman John Froehlich and William Lees are working with the committee which is quietly preparing Thanksgiving cheer for those who otherwise might not enjoy a Thanksgiving dinner.

Garlands Find Auto Industry Humming In Middle West

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Garland returned to Sierra Madre yesterday morning in a new car purchased at the factory in Flint, Mich. The Garlands left about two weeks ago by train, and drove back, stopping at Gas City, Ind., to visit Mr. Garland's brother, and at Elwood, Ind., and Independence, Kansas.

The Garlands were glad to return to sunny California after enduring rainy and cloudy weather during most of the trip. Things are humming in the automobile city, and the factories are having a hard time keeping up with orders for new cars, the Garlands report.
